Short introduction of participating teachers and experts:

Paula Lindroos, Dr, Director of the Baltic University Programme, Uppsala University, Sweden, paula.lindroos@csduppsala.uu.se

Ireneusz Zbicinski, Prof., Vice-Rector of Technical University of Lodz, Center Director of the BUP Polish Center, zbicinsk@p.lodz.pl

Ashok Swain, Prof. at Department of Peace and Conflict Research, Director of the Uppsala Centre for Sustainable Development, Uppsala University, Sweden, Ashok.Swain@pcr.uu.se

Uppsala Center for Sustainable Development is an interdisciplinary center established at Uppsala University. The Center is based on collaboration between Uppsala University (UU) and the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences (SLU). The Uppsala Center for Sustainable Development aims to be a catalyst for research and education on sustainable development at Uppsala's two universities, as well as a place for students and researchers.

Kjell-Åke Nordquist, Assoc. Prof. at Department of Peace and Conflict Research, Uppsala University, Senior Research Fellow at Stockholm School of Theology, Sweden, Kjell-Ake.Nordquist@pcr.uu.se

Stockholm School of Theology provides graduate education (Bachelor´s degrees) in both a Theology and a Human Rights programme.

The Department of Peace and Conflict Research presently operates around 50 research projects dealing with all major themes of contemporary research in the field. One of the important projects is Uppsala Conflict Data Program (UCDP). Within the project a wide range of data is collected by researchers at the department. A selection of the publically available data, as well as the UCDP Conflict Encyclopedia can be accessed through UU website. The Department offers comprehensive education, including full-range undergraduate, Master and PhD Programmes.

Lars Rydén, Prof., Founder and previous director of the Baltic University Programme. Uppsala University, Sweden, lars.ryden@csduppsala.uu.se
